

Omah Launch Report

Prepared for Ritika, Co-founder | 26 May 2026 | Live site: <https://omah-website.vercel.app>

Executive recommendation

Omah should launch as a focused ritual commerce brand, not a broad wellness store. The first 90 days should target wearable ritual jewellery, scent/home ritual products, and ritual gift kits. These categories are small to ship, high-margin, easy to film, and bundle-friendly.

1. Business Thesis

The early-stage goal is not to build the largest catalog. The goal is to find profitable demand with low operational pain. Every category should pass five filters: margin, logistics, content, gifting, and repeat purchase.

- High gross margin and strong perceived value.
- Low shipping weight and low breakage risk.
- Easy to explain in a 15-second reel.
- Giftable or bundle-friendly.
- Low compliance burden in the first launch phase.

2. Target Categories

Priority	Category	Why it wins	Timing
1	Wearable ritual jewellery	Low shipping cost, high perceived value, strong gifting, easy UGC.	Start now
2	Scent and home ritual	Repeat purchase, strong emotion language, easy bundles, growing market.	Start now
3	Ritual gift kits	Raises AOV, improves margin, works for festivals/corporate/weddings.	Start now
4	Beauty-lite care	Small, repeatable, premium-feeling, but more formulation-sensitive.	Phase 2
5	Functional teas	Consumable and ritual-friendly, but requires taste, shelf-life and compliance.	Phase 3

3. Category Detail

Wearable ritual jewellery

This should be the first customer acquisition category. People understand it quickly, creators can shoot it easily, and it keeps fulfilment simple.

- Evil eye bracelets

- Pyrite/citrine bracelets
- Minimal necklaces
- Charm stacks
- Malas, anklets, rings

Scent and home ritual

This should become the repeat-purchase engine. Scent creates everyday use and can be bundled into desk, sleep, gifting, and home reset occasions.

- Incense cones
- Room sprays
- Essential oil blends
- Candles
- Wax melts
- Car fragrance

Ritual gift kits

This should become the profit and AOV engine. Kits let us combine lower-cost products into a higher-value offer.

- Begin Within Kit
- Desk Reset Kit
- Night Ritual Kit
- New Home Kit
- Corporate Desk Reset Kit

4. Categories to Avoid Early

- Supplements and gummies: regulatory and claims risk.
- Serious skincare: crowded, expensive, trust-heavy.
- Electronics/diffusers: defect and warranty risk.
- Apparel: sizing, returns, inventory complexity.
- Heavy decor: shipping damage and storage pain.
- Generic fashion jewellery without ritual meaning: too easy to compare on price.

5. Product Ladder

Layer	Price	Role	Examples	Target Margin
Entry	Rs. 299-799	Low-friction first purchase	Bracelets, charms, incense, ritual cards	60-75%
Core	Rs. 999-1,999	Main profitable order	Desk kit, night kit, protection stack	55-70%
Premium	Rs. 2,499-4,999	Gifting and corporate	Housewarming box, bridesmaid box	50-65%

6. Budget Needed

Launch Mode	Budget	When to choose it
Lean	Rs. 1.5L-2.5L	Validate demand before stocking heavily.
Recommended	Rs. 4L-7L	A real launch with inventory, content, packaging, and paid tests.
Aggressive	Rs. 10L-15L	Only after supplier confidence and product pull are visible.

Recommended: Rs. 4L to Rs. 7L over 60 days. Minimum workable: Rs. 1.5L to Rs. 2.5L over 45 days.

Budget Breakdown: Recommended 60-Day Launch

Cost Head	Estimated Range
Product samples and vendor tests	Rs. 50,000-80,000
Packaging and inserts	Rs. 60,000-1.2L
First inventory	Rs. 1.5L-3L
Shopify/domain/apps/tracking	Rs. 40,000-80,000
Creator videos and product shoot	Rs. 75,000-1.5L
Paid ads testing	Rs. 75,000-1.5L
Buffer	Rs. 50,000-1L

7. 8-Week Launch Plan

1. Week 1: finalize 12 SKUs across wearables, scent/home, and gift kits.
2. Week 2: order samples from 3-5 vendors per product type.
3. Week 3: finalize packaging, inserts, ritual cards, and bundle names.
4. Week 4: build Shopify product pages and product visual system.
5. Week 5: create 5-10 UGC-style videos and test hooks.
6. Week 6: soft launch with waitlist, WhatsApp capture, and Instagram teasers.
7. Week 7: launch first limited drop with 3 hero bundles and 3 entry products.
8. Week 8: cut weak SKUs and double down on products with saves, DMs, carts, and orders.

8. Marketing Plan

Positioning: Modern Indian ritual goods for the way you live now.

- Instagram: 5 UGC-style videos, 3 demos, 2 lifestyle reels, 2 founder/BTS videos each week.
- UGC: test hooks with AI first, then send winning scripts to Indian creators.
- Paid ads: start with Rs. 25,000-50,000 over 20-30 days; test only three products and three bundles.
- WhatsApp: use DMs and WhatsApp to recommend products by feeling, occasion, or recipient.
- Retention: every order should create a next purchase through refills, add-ons, or gifting.

9. Website and Shopify Plan

- Keep the current Vercel site as the brand preview.

- Move commerce to Shopify when we are ready to collect orders cleanly.
- Create pages for Shop by Ritual, Shop by Form, Bundles, Gift Finder, About, and FAQ.
- Each product page should explain what it is, why people buy it, how to use it, what to pair it with, and shipping/care.

10. Team Roles

Person	Owns
Yash	Website, AI workflow, automation, sourcing tools, ads tests, WhatsApp/OpenClaw workflows.
Ritika	Product taste, packaging aesthetic, creator/content review, brand tone, final SKU selection.
Shared	Budget band, first 12 SKUs, product names, Shopify timing, first creator shortlist.

11. First 90-Day Targets

- Launch 10-12 SKUs.
- Sell first 100 orders.
- Identify three winning products.
- Reach AOV of Rs. 1,200-1,800.
- Keep gross margin above 55%.
- Create 50+ usable content assets.
- Build a WhatsApp list of 300+ interested buyers.

12. Ritika Decision Checklist

- Which 5 wearable products feel most Omah?
- Which 3 scent/home products feel easiest to sell?
- Which 3 gift kits feel most giftable?
- Should the launch budget be lean, recommended, or aggressive?
- Should Omah start Shopify now or use the current site as a preview/waitlist?
- What packaging direction should we pick: minimal premium, playful premium, or spiritual-luxe?
- Who is the first audience: young women buying for self, gifting buyers, or desk/home wellness buyers?
